DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-5 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of copending Application No. 10/781,137. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions are drawn to a program product comprising logic for detecting a device also using the same radio frequency channel and logic for detecting adjusting transmit power.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Almgren et al (Almgren), U.S. Patent No. 5,574,982.

Regarding claim 1, Almgren discloses a program product for use in an apparatus capable of communicating in a wireless communications environment via a radio frequency channel, the program product comprising a computer readable medium having embodied therein a computer program for storing data, the computer program comprising: logic for detecting that another device is also using the radio frequency channel; logic for adjusting transmit power in response to said detecting (col. 1, lines 13-22)

Regarding claim 2, Almgren discloses the program product of claim 1 wherein the logic for adjusting transmit power does so in response to a message received from the another device, the message indicating the transmitted power level of the another device (col. 4, lines 24-39).

Regarding claim 3, Almgren discloses a program product for use in an apparatus capable of communicating in a wireless communications environment via a radio frequency channel, the program product comprising a computer readable medium having embodied therein a computer program for storing data, the computer program comprising: logic for detecting that at another device is also using the radio frequency channel; logic for adjusting transmit power in response to a message received from the another device, the message indicating the transmitted power level of the another device (col. 1, lines 13-22, col. 4, lines 24-39).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Hill et al, U.S. Patent No. 6,131,015, discloses two-way communication system for performing dynamic channel control.

Mitra, U.S. Patent No. 5,551,057, discloses cellular mobile radio system power control.
